BRIEFINGS

INFORMATION REGARDING RECENT ACTIVITIES

GOVERNMENT OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

October 13 & 14, 2003

Cochairperson: Senator Mary Lundby

Cochairperson: Representative Dwayne Alons

Overview. The primary focus of the meeting concerned an update regarding economic development activities of the Iowa Values Board, a discussion of the grants enterprise management system, responses to Committee inquiries concerning motor vehicle driving record fees, electronic filing of campaign finance reports, potential ethics violations stemming from outside contracts, a discussion of public contracting procedure changes, implementation of legislation relating to entrepreneurial purchasing and operating provisions, state agency billing and payment procedures, an update regarding the state financial and information technology system redesign project, and the funding of staff positions for the Office of the Governor.

Iowa Department of Economic Development/Grow Iowa Values Board Update. Ms. Mary Lawyer, Iowa Department of Economic Development, provided an update regarding activities of the Board leading up to and since the legislative implementation date for the Grow Iowa Values Fund of July 1, 2003. Ms. Lawyer indicated that administrative rules have been established, officers elected, public hearings in relation to the rules have been conducted across the state, and three projects have been funded pursuant to emergency administrative rules. A number of other related boards are in the process of organizing, and a joint meeting with the Economic Development Board will be held. Representative Clarence Hoffman, an ex officio Grow Iowa Values Board member, provided additional input, indicating he felt good progress was being made, but that the prospect of conducting long-term strategic planning with uncertain future funding is problematic. Committee discussion included the issue of urban vs. rural project funding, and the scheduling of representatives from Iowa State University to make a presentation to the Board.

Grants Enterprise Management System (GEMS). Ms. Kathy Mabie, Department of Management, updated the Committee regarding the goals of GEMS and activities relating to establishing a database and website. Ms. Mabie indicated that the system is intended to assist with the obtaining of nonstate funding sources, facilitate state agency coordination and collaboration regarding competitive grant application efforts, and inform policy makers, legislators, and citizens regarding state agency competitive grant applications and grant funds received. A competitive grants tracking database has been online since July, and four training sessions were designed to assist agencies in utilizing the system. Ms. Mabie described efforts to update the Iowa grants website, indicating that it will provide necessary information to enhance grant identification and increase the chances of application success, and that focus groups will be conducted to assist in the development of the website. She also outlined a series of goals during the next six months relating to expanding agency use of the system. The prospect of eventually securing a professional grant writer to provide assistance to agencies, and utilizing a volunteer grant writers association to provide additional assistance, was discussed.

Driving Record Fees Update. Mr. John Gillispie, Chief Operating Officer, Information Technology Enterprise, and Mr. Terry Dillinger, Iowa Department of Transportation, responded to inquiries relating to fees imposed and deposited into the General Fund for motor vehicle driving record information. A handout was distributed relating to the five dollar and fifty cent statutory fee and three dollar service or convenience fee, which addressed fee adjustability, determination, communication, certified vs. noncertified status, and lookup fees structure issues. In response to member questions, it was stated that, generally, insurance companies or other for-profit entities want records access, and that the bulk of the reports are communicated electronically.

Campaign Finance Reports – Electronic Filing. Mr. Charles Smithson, Executive Director, Ethics and Campaign Disclosure Board, discussed issues relating to electronic filing of campaign finance reports. Mr. Smithson indicated that all state and local campaign finance reports are available free of charge on the Board's website, and that a database and reporting system is in place which could process 100 percent electronic filing utilization. Committee discussion addressed the possibility that a non-searchable format may serve as a disincentive, and access issues relating to utilization of information technology necessary to electronically file reports.

Potential Ethics Violations – Outside Contracts. Mr. Smithson also addressed the Committee regarding the possibility of ethics rule violations relating to lobbyist registration requirements in recent instances involving executive branch contracts entered into with outside agencies or entities. Mr. Smithson stated that there does not appear to be statutory authority for the proposition that a violation of the ethics law occurred, but that there are issues relating to a prohibition on contingency fee lobbying and that he will review the issues with the Ethics Board.

State Purchasing Processes. Department of Administrative Services (DAS) Administrator Mollie Anderson and other department staff discussed Iowa law relating to public contracts and which procedures have been changed from those applied by the predecessor agency (the Department of General Services). A procedural change has been made so that service contracts must be rebid at least every six years. If a product being purchased is available from Prison Industries, a state agency must purchase it from Prison Industries unless a waiver is received from Prison Industries. Members noted that local governments may also purchase many items utilizing the terms of a state purchasing contract (known as "piggybacking") and requested information about the extent this practice is utilized.

Entrepreneurial Business Practices. Director Anderson described changes planned for state agency purchasing to implement the entrepreneurial purchasing and operating provisions contained in the legislation creating DAS (2003 Iowa Acts, HF 534). The new approach will utilize accrual accounting practices and classify the services provided by DAS to other state agencies into one of the following categories: "utilities" services for which it makes sense to utilize one supplier, "marketplace" services for which agencies can choose vendors within or outside state government, and "leadership" functions that are covered directly by an appropriation rather than charged back to an agency. "Customer councils" consisting of "customer" state agencies are now operating to determine the direct and indirect costs for utility services. Director Anderson explained that the implementation schedule is very ambitious and the staff resources for the implementation have been subject to reductions in the past few years.

Technology Costs. Members discussed the significant rate increases applied by the predecessor agency to the Information Technology Enterprise. Efforts are underway to ensure the rates charged are appropriate. Members strongly suggested that a complete audit should be performed of the business practices utilized by the predecessor agency (Information Technology Department). Concerns were raised by other members about the audit cost.

Information System Redesign Project. Ms. Sharon Sperry, DAS, made a presentation along with other members of the team and the vendor (AMS) working on this project known as "I-3" (Integrated Information for Iowa). The new software has budget, procurement, financing, and data warehouse functions and team members discussed each component. While some components have been completed on schedule, implementation of some critical functions, including budget, will be delayed several months. Adjustments will be made so the delay does not cause costs to the state.

Funding of Governor's Staff. Dr. Steven Gleason, Chief of Staff and Ms. Liz Buck, Deputy Chief of Staff, discussed the 28 full-time equivalent positions (FTEs) authorized in appropriations for the Office of the Governor and 8 FTEs that are funded by other state agencies. Members requested follow-up information regarding the Iowa Governor's practices as compared to those of other states, hiring and retention bonuses for which commitments exist but have not been paid, and the practices of previous Iowa governors.

December Meetings. Members discussed topics for the next meeting scheduled for December, and topics that can be deferred until the 2004 Legislative Session. Members wish to cover the following topics in December:

- ISU bondage and discipline student group
- Unemployment benefits for Meskwaki casino employees
- Software capacity available to the Ethics and Campaign Disclosure Board and the private organization, Money & Politics Iowa
- Architectural Examiners Board qualifications requirements
- Agricultural Finance Authority update
- Program Elimination Commission recommendations update
- Progress report on proposals for establishing common boundaries for judicial districts and other government districts

Next Meeting. The next meeting is scheduled for December 15 and 16. The Lottery Subcommittee will meet with Lottery Authority officials on December 16 at 8 a.m.

FISCAL COMMITTEE OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

October 21, 2003

Cochairperson: Senator Jeff Lamberti

Cochairperson: Representative Bill Dix

Revenue Update. Ms. Holly Lyons, Director, Fiscal Services Division (FSD) of the Legislative Service Agency (LSA), provided an update of state revenue outlook for FY 2003-2004, as projected by the Revenue Estimating Conference (REC). The REC reduced projected revenues by $142.2 million, based upon increased tax refunds, reduced economic assumptions concerning income and sales tax revenues, and reduced insurance revenues. Much of the loss anticipated in corporate tax revenues in the present fiscal year and FY 2004-2005 will be due to the carryforward of previous losses. The insurance decrease resulted from applying generally accepted accounting practices which does not allow the state to assign all tax revenue to one fiscal year. The decrease in estimated revenues for FY 2004-2005 is $10.4 million.

Ms. Lyons discussed the 2.5 percent across-the-board cut made by the Governor. Because of this cut, the ending balance for FY 2003-2004, prior to the cash reserve fund transfer, is lowered to $19.6 million. The major area affected is the standing appropriation for K-12 funding, which equals to 58.7 percent of the total reduction. Other major reduction areas include the Board of Regents, Department of Education, and standing appropriations for property tax reimbursements.

Reinvent Government. Ms. Sue Lerdal, FSD, and Mr. Doug Wulf, FSD, gave a brief status of the Reinvention of Government Act (Senate File 453) enacted last session. The six charter agencies signed charter agreements with the Governor which listed the agencies' performance targets and special projects and specified the agencies' benefits and flexibilities. These agencies in total had to either reduce expenditures or increase revenues in order to be classified "charter agencies." The total amount involved was to be at least $14 million.

Mr. Randy Bauer, Department of Management (DOM), discussed the baselines that were set for the charter agencies for purposes of computing the decrease in spending or increase in revenues. The Department of Revenue was cited as an example. The department was provided funding to hire nonstaff auditors to do tax audits that would not otherwise be done. Using the standard of $1 used in audits will generate $8 in additional tax revenues, the department will reach its goal.

Mr. Babak Armanjani, Public Strategies Group (PSG), provided the latest update on PSG's activities. He noted that there are only three items of the $128 million in spending reductions made in Senate File 453, that involve PSG, amounting to approximately $85 million. The items are the Child Welfare Project to redesign state child welfare and juvenile justice from the perspective of what is best for the child; the State and Local Government Project to change the state-local relationship; and the Charter Agency Project involving agreements with the Governor for reduced spending or increased revenues. The projects involve outcome measures and deliverable milestones to be attained.

Mr. John Easter, Iowa State Association of Counties, and Ms. Susan Judkins, Iowa League of Cities, expressed their concern with the approach taken in enacting Senate File 453, especially in regard to the reduction in state aid to local governments. The complaints were the proposing and enacting of the cuts without sufficient time for city and county response and the enactment of the cuts after budgets have been certified. They recommended that any future recommendations by PSG affecting local governments be discussed with local governments and that certain property tax credits be converted into property tax exemptions. Mr. Easter stated that the process was the reverse of what should have been, i.e., design and implement a plan to build trust between state and locals, identify best practices and efficiencies, and then make cuts.

Medicaid and hawk-i Program Costs. Ms. Jennifer Vermeer, FSD, gave an analysis of the Medicaid and hawk-i Programs. The growth in the Medicaid Program caseload is about 1,200 clients per month, with costs at the same level as for FY 2002-2003. She expressed a hope that there will be a surplus if additional federal funds are forthcoming. The total expenditures for the hawk-i Program indicate a slight decrease from the budgeted amount. She noted that figures for both programs are based only upon the first quarter of the fiscal year.

Capitol Security. Ms. Jennifer Acton, FSD, presented an Issue Review on Capitol security, personnel, and funding. In FY 2001-2002, $772,000 was spent on Capitol security upgrades, equipment, and personnel; in FY 2002-2003, $1.9 million was appropriated for security personnel and infrastructure upgrades; and in FY 2003-2004, $1.8 million was appropriated for security personnel and infrastructure upgrades. The appropriations were from the State General Fund, Rebuild Iowa Infrastructure Fund, and Restricted Capital Fund. Lt. Garrison of the security detail stated that there has definitely been a reduction in incidents involving possible weapons and disturbances over the last three years.

Incentives for .08 Percent. Ms. Acton, briefly discussed the federal funding incentive that was offered the states by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration for lowering the blood content threshold for OWI violations to .08 percent. Originally, Iowa was expected to receive $2 million in incentive funds. Because of additional states adopting the lower figure, the estimated amount the state will receive is decreased to $1.3 million.

On-Line Benefit Enrollment. Mr. Ron Robinson, FSD, and Mr. Ed Holland, Department of Administrative Services, Human Resources Enterprise, informed the Committee about the development of the on-line enrollment and change tool for central payroll employees which was started January 31, 2002. The benefits to the state will be a reduction in paperwork and cost. Electronic data interchange is the current industry standard. This will enable entities to transmit insurance data in a prescribed automated format that will meet federal regulations related to the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

Impact of Valuations on School Aid. Mr. Dwayne Ferguson, FSD, informed the Committee that the Department of Revenue has provided an updated property tax valuation estimate for FY 2004-2005. The original estimate was an increase in valuation of 2 percent while the revised estimate is a decrease of 2 percent. This revised estimate will cost the state an additional revised $22.2 million in state school aid. The reduction in property tax valuation is primarily the result of an 18 percent decline in taxable agricultural values.

Updates on Valuations and Property Tax Committee. Mr. Dick Stradley, Department of Revenue, gave a summary of the 2003 tentative equalization orders issued by the department. Taken with the actions of the local assessor's revaluation, the total impact on the main classes of property are: agricultural, -19.4 percent; residential (urban and rural), +5.9 percent; and commercial, +5.0 percent. He noted that the productivity value of agriculture, which is its taxable value, is only 31 percent of the market value. He postulated that this difference may be due to the fact that by statute a capitalization rate of 7 percent is to be used, while a 3 or 4 percent rate would probably be used according to certain other models.

Mr. Stradley informed the members that the Property Tax Implementation Committee mandated by House File 692 held its initial meeting on September 3, 2003. Four counties, instead of the required three, have volunteered to participate in the pilot project. He said that consideration is being given to having the counties look back over the last five years rather than forward to determine the effect of the new valuation structure. The implementation committee created four subcommittees to more efficiently manage the identified issues. These are: Counties/Cities; Broad Implementation Issues; Property Tax Structure; and Definitions of Categories and Classes.

Next Meeting. The next meeting is to be held Wednesday, December 17, 2003.

LSA Staff: Sue Lerdal, Fiscal Services, (515) 281-7794; Dave Reynolds, Fiscal Services, (515) 281-6934; Mike Goedert, Legal Services Monitor, (515) 281-3922

CHILD WELFARE SERVICE SYSTEM REDESIGN MONITORING COMMITTEE

October 22, 2003

Cochairperson: Senator Maggie Tinsman

Cochairperson: Representative Dave Heaton

Federal Child and Family Service Review (CFSR). Iowa has been involved in a multi-year process of reviewing the child and family welfare services system to determine compliance with federal requirements. The federal government issued the final report of its review of Iowa's system on October 15, 2003, and the state now has 90 days to develop and submit a program improvement plan to the federal government. The review was based upon a combination of statistical information, stakeholder interviews, and case evaluations resulting in a report of determinations as to the state's compliance with various federally-identified outcomes and systemic factors. The state is subject to financial penalties if the nonconformance continues. Of the first 32 states subject to review, no state was found in total compliance.

CFSR Outcomes and Factors – State in Compliance. The federal government found the state was in compliance with the following:

- Safety Outcome 2 – children are safely maintained in their homes when possible and appropriate
- Well Being Outcome 2 – children receive appropriate services to meet their educational needs
- Statewide information system factor
- Agency responsiveness to community factor
- Foster and adoptive parent licensing, recruitment, and retention factor

CFSR Outcomes and Factors – State in Noncompliance. The federal government found the state is out of compliance with the following:

- Safety Outcome 1 - children are first and foremost, protected from abuse and neglect
- Permanency Outcome 1 – children have permanency and stability in their living situations
- Permanency Outcome 2 – The continuity of family relationships and connections is preserved for children
- Well Being Outcome 1 – Families have enhanced capacity to provide for the children's needs
- Well Being Outcome 3 – Children receive services to meet their physical and mental health needs
- Case review system factor
- Quality assurance system factor
- Training factor
- Service Array factor

Child Welfare Redesign – Third Draft. Ms. Wendy Rickman and Ms. Jan Clausen of the DHS redesign team discussed the third draft of the redesign plan issued on October 17, 2003 (available from the DHS Internet page, see URL below). The draft will be subject to comment during the week of October 20 and DHS Director Concannon will complete his review and issue his decision about the redesign after November 3.

Member Comments. Members asked questions of and made comments to the redesign team including the following:

- Targeted Population Segment. The redesign continues to suggest targeting the segment of the child welfare population that has the most significant needs. The redesign team intends to narrow the focus on this segment to encompass approximately 350-400 children statewide. The majority of the members support this approach but some members hope more children can be included in the targeted segment.
- Initial Approach. There is a desire to start the redesign small in order to learn from successes and mistakes on a smaller scale. The draft provides options to either refer the targeted segment cases to a specialized statewide team or to authorize the DHS Service Area Manager and colleagues in Juvenile Court Services to work out an approach for that area. Members supported further development of these options. There was some interest in implementing a statewide approach as soon as possible.
- Purchasing Considerations. The redesign teams is working on options to purchase and pay for the results desired for children and families. Several members expressed the belief that paying bonuses for performance is a mistake. They believe the successful providers will be rewarded with continued business and unsuccessful providers will no longer be retained to provide services. Others noted that rural areas of the state often do not have many providers from which to choose and that a different type of purchasing may be needed for these areas.
- Case Coordinator. The redesign continues to develop a distinction between the role of the case manager and the case coordinator that would do the most work directly with children and families. In a departure from previous drafts, the case coordinator role would be a private sector function. Members expressed agreement with that approach, and emphasized the importance of the case coordinator role, maintaining relatively low caseloads, doing what it takes to meet an individual family's needs, and for the coordinators to work flexible hours to fit into family schedules. Ideally, the same case coordinator would remain throughout the period during which a family's contact with the system.
- Paperwork. Both the presenters and members emphasized the need to curtail the amount of paperwork currently required in the system.
- System Collaboration. Significant discussion occurred around the involvement of workers from DHS, juvenile court, education and special education, private providers, and other welfare agencies with some families that have many needs. The system redesign seeks to eliminate unnecessary duplication.
- Assessment. The redesign emphasizes the importance of assessment. Members urged that the various systems involved with children and families work as collaboratively as possible to eliminate the duplication of conducting different assessments and then formulating treatment plans without involving the other systems that deal with the families. Efforts are now underway for the technology used by the various systems to be able to communicate more effectively.
- Meeting Needs. Members noted that families with children with mental health, developmental disabilities, or other serious conditions with significant needs often cannot currently access services without a court determination that the child is in need of assistance (CINA). There was general agreement on the need for continued work on this problem.
